REPORT OF SCHOOL BOARD.

In submitting our report for the year ending March 1st, 1888, we wish to call the attention of the district, first, to the changes which have been made in the different schools during the past two years, and to some of the results that have followed. Under the old school law, the town was divided into eight school districts, and at the time the present law came in force was supporting eleven schools. The average attendance of pupils at these different schools during the years 1884 and 1885, the two last years of the old district system, and the number of weeks' schooling for the same period was as follows :

	Pupils.	Weeks' Schooling.
Dist. No. 1,	4	32
Dist. No. 2, 1st primary,	33	36
Dist. No. 2, 2d primary,	39	54
Dist. No. 2, intermediate,	37	56
Dist. No. 2, grammar,	28	56
Dist. No. 3,	14	42
Dist. No. 4,	7	40
Dist. No. 5,	10	40
Dist. No. 6,	9	38
Dist. No. 7,	8	42
Dist. No. 8,	22	52

Believing that the school money could be more economically expended by bringing together some of the smaller schools, the School Board of 1886 assigned the scholars from old districts Nos. 1 and 7 to No. 8, which school is now known as No. 1. Old districts Nos. 4 and 5 and a portion of No. 6 they united in one school, now called No. 4. Scholars from the part of old district No. 6 not united with Nos. 4 and 5 they assigned to old district No. 2, now No. 2 school. No change was made with No. 3, except that scholars from this, as well as from all the other schools, are allowed to attend the grammar school whenever they are sufficiently advanced to enter the classes in that department. These changes, and arrangements, the present Board have found so satisfactory in their practical working, that no alterations have been deemed necessary the past year. The saving of money, consequent on the reduction of the number of schools, has enabled the district to furnish to the scholars from the smaller districts fifty-eight weeks of schooling during the two past years, or sixteen weeks more than they received the two years previous in their old districts.

Another important benefit derived, though one, perhaps, not so readily noticed, or universally admitted, is the increased ambition and interest which scholars in the larger schools incite in each other. It has been stated by one of our citizens, an old teacher, that both teachers and scholars will do fifty per cent. more and better work in schools numbering from 25 to 30 scholars than they will in the very small schools. This we believe to be in accordance with the opinion of a very large majority of those who have given the subject careful thought.

A liberal amount has been paid for transporting scholars, so that the inconvenience which might have been experienced by those living farthest from school has been largely removed. In the matter of transportation, we have had no established precedent, or fixed rule, to govern us, and, hence, the mistakes we may have made, we trust, will not be repeated by our successors.

The school houses now occupied are pleasantly situated, present a respectable appearance, and are conveniently arranged. They all have modern seats and desks, and each one is provided with a globe, outline maps and dictionary. In the grammar school room there are additional maps, reference book and apparatus particularly needed for the branches of study taught in that department. There has been no change in text books during the year. A few supplementary readers have been purchased for use in different schools as needed; also a set of Holt's musical charts, which has been used in No. 2 school during the Winter and part of the Fall term, in connection with systematic instruction in vocal music. This is a new departure in our schools, but the results, we think, fully justify the experiment, and we recommend that more prominence be given it in the future.

There has been only one change of teachers during the year. Miss Minnie L. Merrill, who had taught the first primary school with very marked ability and success for eight successive terms, resigned at the close of the Spring term, and Miss Elizabeth E. Randall, of Waltham, Mass., an experienced and successful teacher, was employed to take the place. We have employed none but experienced teachers, and we are glad to be able to say that they have, as we believe, labored faithfully and earnestly for the highest good of their pupils. The older and more advanced scholars in the mixed schools have been urged and encouraged to avail themselves of the advantages of the grammar school as early as their attainments would allow, and we are glad to notice a general willingness on their part to do so. It must be evident to the citizens of the district, who take an interest in the matter, that our grammar school is now giving that practical and thorough instruction to its scholars, which not only prepares them for the proper discharge of the ordinary business duties of life, but also fits them for an easy entrance and creditable standing in the higher schools they may wish to attend. And it is also gratifying to know that the good reputation of this school is not confined to our own town, but that scholars in adjoining towns are asking to share its privileges.

By reference to the accompanying table, it will be noticed that the whole number of scholars registered during the year was 367. This is an increase of 30 over the year before, and over two-thirds of this increase has been in the first primary school. It is hardly possible to accommodate any more in this department, and should there be a still further addition of pupils it would necessitate a larger room, or division of the school.

We cannot close this report without calling particular attention to what we believe is one of the greatest hindrances to the complete success of our schools—the frequent tardiness and absence of pupils. This is no new evil. Frequent complaint has been made in regard to it by teachers and school committees, but the parents and guardians—the ones who are almost wholly responsible for its continuance—have not yet come to the rescue. A scholar often absent from recitation soon loses his interest and inevitably falls behind his class; thus, not only debarring himself from the benefits which the school is designed to bestow and which it is the duty of his parents to see that he receives, but he is a hindrance to his teacher and classmates, and a positive damage to the whole school.

In conclusion we wish to express our thanks to manufacturers for their cheerful assistance in securing a better attendance by refusing employment to those scholars whom the law requires to attend school. And also to others for valuable suggestions for the good of scholars.

Respectfully submitted.

HENRY GOULD,

REPORT OF BOARD OF HEALTH.

In presenting the second annual health report of Marlborough, it is with pleasure that we can report another year of unusual health. It is true disease and death have had their victims; yet we have escaped epidemics of a malignant form, and while there were two cases of scarlatina and two of diphtheria, none were fatal; also there are eight cases of typhoid fever to report, one terminating fatally from complications; but these cases have been of individuals separated from each other, and in some of them no cause for the disease could be discovered, excepting the over-worked and debilitated condition of the patient previous to attack; while in some of these cases bad hygienic surroundings have been the direct cause of the disease. To this class the work of the health officer is of great importance, and it has been our endeavor to instruct this class of persons especially—the great danger to life and health, of any lack of cleanliness around their dwellings.

Complaints of nuisances have been investigated, and we are happy to record the promptness with which, in most instances after giving written notices, said nuisances were removed by those having charge of the property. Still it is to be regretted that permanent improvements were not instituted in several instances, where existing nuisances were simply removed only to again recur.

We would call especial attention to "Rules and Regulations," posted by your Board of Health, as these laws are intended for the better protection of the health of the inhabitants of Marlborough, firmly believing that a strict observance of them will insure a greater immunity from disease.

Respectfully submitted.

CEMETERY COMMITTEE.

Your Committee submits the following report :

By the death of Benjamin F. Merriam, Esq., June 4, 1887, your Committee lost an earnest associate and helper, one who was deeply interested in the work of improving and beautifying the various cemeteries of our town. We appointed Elisha O. Woodward, Esq., to fill the vacancy caused by Mr. Merriam's death.

The work of the year has included a thorough renovation of the cemetery near the Esty place, and the one at the old center of the town, by righting the leaning tablets and headstones, and by removing brush, grass, dead leaves, etc.

At Pine Grove cemetery we contemplated introducing water from the pipe now running through it, but were unable to make satisfactory arrangements to do so. Neither did we deem it expedient to expend a sufficient sum of money to connect it with Graniteville cemetery, as has been talked. Doubtless our citizens will call for it to be done at no distant day.

A glance at the accompanying accounts will show that the expenditures for the year have been very light, while the amount received from the sale of lots has been nearly double that of the year before. To this date, 15 lots have been sold and 20 interments made in Pine Grove cemetery. Undoubtedly your Committee of the coming year will, in the Spring, grade the roads and introduce water in this cemetery.
